TORONTO TIDINGS

Messrs. Henry E. Grooms, A. C. Shepherd, W. C. Mackay, Frank E. Doyle and H. W. Roberts, of Toronto, Postal Service, were all up for their annual examinations on postal laws and regulations during the week of April 20th, but the results will not be known until they hear from the Civil Service Commission at Ottawa.

A special meeting of the Board of Trustees of our Church was held on April 21st, to hear of what Rev. A. L. Richards, of the Broadview Congregational Church had to say in regard to the purchase of a church site. Several places were mentioned, but no definite action was taken. Mr. Richards cautioned us to go slowly, as many unseen snags were liable to bob up in the way. It will be remembered that it was this Rev. gentleman, who spoke so earnestly and hopefully at our church on Easter Sunday. Immediately after the meeting on the 21st, Mr. Richards hurried over to the General Hospital to have some of his blood transfused to a poor young patient, whose people were too poor to pay for any other means.

While at work, at the Massey Harris Co., on April 15th, Mr. George Elliott had the misfortune to get the longest finger on his left hand badly split, from the top down to the first joint, after having it dressed by the company's surgeon, George resumed his work, but shortly afterwards it became so painful that he was obliged to go to his home at Long Beach, but when the community nurse of that village examined the injured digit she found blood poison had set in, and George was immediately rushed to the Toronto General Hospital, put under ether and the finger amputated at the first joint. George has since left the hospital for home and is now doing well. During his enforced illness he is drawing full pay from his company as well as the Compensation Board.

Miss Margaret Ross left, on April 24th, for a two weeks' holiday with relatives and friends in Bracebridge. Margaret is the eldest daughter of Mr. W. J. Ross of the post office service.

The Toronto Association of the Deaf held a meeting at the I. O. F. building, on Friday evening, April 24th, to re-organize their base ball team for the coming season, and from what transpired that evening it looks like a good season with three teams in the field. The Association's financial condition showed a healthy sheet. A feature of the meeting was the presentation to each player of last year's championship team, "The Mercury," of beautiful silver belt buckles. The following were the lucky members of the team: Messrs. David Lawrence, Thomas Goulding, John Marshall, Lorenzo G. Malola, James Tate, Asa Forrester, John Buchanan, W. W. Scott and Colin McLean. The champion bowling team of the past winter was also remembered, and each player was the recipient of a very beautiful loving silver cup, suitably engraved, and the following got one of this coveted silverware: Messrs. S. R. Edwards, James Tate, William McGovern, John Brown and Lorenzo G. Malola. President John Maynard was in the chair.

After many weeks of diligent rehearsing, the Ladies' Aid of our church staged their first entertainment under its auspices on April 25th. It was entitled "Spring Vaudeville," and judging by the attendance and enthusiasm shown, it was a very successful affair, and the proceeds amounted to over $40.00, after deducting all expenses.

Mrs. Walter Bell was most instrumental in getting it up, and every member of the Ladies' Aid figured in the matinee. There were four scenes. "The Barber Shop" came first, with Mrs. Asa Forrester, Charles Pettiford, R. McPherson and Ellsworth Bowman figuring in it. Next came the "Jolly Bootblack," in song and comical melody, and those in it were Messrs. Peter McDougald, Roy Cheney, Charles Wilmott and Frank Pierce. This was followed by the Drama, "The fruits of Reckoning," featuring Mrs. Henry Whealy as the "Lady," Miss Marion Powell as the "Maid," Miss Harry Grooms, as the "Worshipful Grand Master," Mr. A. H. Jaffray, as the "Lochinvar," and Mr. Charles McLaughlin as the "Lordy Prince." Finally came the Ladies' Aid members grouped together in living models, representing "Hope, Love, and Charity," in various poses, and the entertainment closed with all signing in union "God Save the King," led by Mrs. Walter Bell.

We all sympathize with Mr. George Brethour and his sister, Miss Carrie, in the death of their sister-in-law, Mrs. Alex. Craik, of Montreal, who passed away on April 16th, and also of their aunt, Miss Susie Brethour, who answered her Master's call, in this city, on April 22d.

In his usual pleasing way, Mr. P. Fraser treated all those who turned out to our church on Sunday, April 26th, to a masterly sermon on "Ye Must Be Born Again," and earnestly cautioned all to wash their sins in the blood of the Lamb and enrobe themselves in the mantle of true Christian doctrine and fellowship, declaring that behind a sinner's animism there was a striving for a higher and more Christlike life, Miss Eunice Wilson gracefully rendered, "Waiting, Waiting Till Jesus Comes."

Our Epworth League discussion on April 22d, referred to the riches of Jehoshaphat and his affinity with Ahab and of his fall into disgrace and the equally wicked reign of his son, Jehoram.

Miss Muriel Allen returned from Hamilton on April 19th, after a week's sojourn there, helping her mother at house cleaning.

The late Rev. John Coburn, the blind Evangelist, who died in this city recently, was a close chum of Mr. Samuel Smith, now living in Detroit, when they met at the School for the Deaf in Belfast, Ireland, many years ago, and when the deceased came to Toronto two or three decades ago, taught a class of the deaf on Yonge Street. The Rev. gentleman was well known and highly esteemed by the deaf, particularly by the older generation.

The writer had unintentionally overlooked to report in a recent issue the pretty wedding that took place at the Bloor Street Baptist Church, on March 7th, when Miss Marjory Violetta Bundy, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bundy, of 65 Ulster Street, and grand-daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Lester Smith, became the bride of Mr. Reginald Charles Ball, of this city. The Rev. Mr. Cameron performed the ceremony. The charming young bride, as well as the bridesmaid, looked very becoming in powder blue dresses, and each carried a bouquet of lovely pink roses. A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents after the ceremony. The happy couple are now residing at 65 Ulster Street, amid the good wishes of all.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Thomas, of Oakville, were in the city for a week lately, visiting relatives and friends. Mr. Thomas is almost four score summers born, yet is as lively as one of fifty.

Miss Martha Cunningham and her mother, who have been spending the past winter down amid Florida's summer breezes, returned to our midst on April 20th, looking well and sun-tanned.

Mr. A. W. Mason was up to attend the funeral of the late Mrs. David Hambly, in Nobleton, on April 28th, as the representative of the deaf of this city.

Mr. Charles Ford is back again from a visit to Serbia and Detroit, with relatives and friends. He tried to get work while away, but in vain. Charlie expects his mother and deaf sister, Miss Clarissa Ford, of Mountain, up to see him soon.

WATERLOO CO. WEE BITS.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Golds, of Kitchener, were the guests of the Moynihans in Waterloo on April 19th.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Williams and children, of Kitchener, were out in Galt on April 19th, visiting the Clements family.

Miss Kate Farmer, of Waterloo, is not altogether in the best of health, but bears up cheerfully. She finds constant company and comfort in her 83 year old mother with whom she lives.

On account of alterations being made at the Cherry home in Preston, Mrs. Ida Cherry Robertson and Mrs. Joseph Cole postponed their trip to Nova Scotia from May 3d to May 10th.

On the morning of April 19th, the Moynihans noticed near their Waterloo home a poor little mamma robin, belaboring herself in a vain attempt to free her legs of a string in which they got entangled. To the string was also attached a stick about eight inches long. Poor birdie seemed in great agony, but the efforts of the Moynihans to catch her were fruitless until a day or so later, when she was seen to be caught in the branches of a nearby apple tree. No time was lost in extracting the little red breast from her perilous position, and Miss Beverley Moynihan then told her deaf parents that it was a pity they could not hear it sing as it flew off to its nest and kept up a long loud melody of thanks, as if saying—

Little deeds of kindness
Little words of love
Make this earth an Eden
Like the Heaven above.

FORT QUAPPELLE FACTS

The deaf of this part of Canada are so interested in the JOURNAL since it has given space for Canadian news, that they could hardly do without it. It is like a weekly letter from home.

We were very sorry to learn of the death of Mrs. John Walter Gee at Cupar, on Easter Sunday, and was buried in the Cupar Cemetery. Mr. and Mrs. Gee came to this district some twenty years ago from near London, Ont., and lived on a homestead, on which they farmed successfully, retiring a few years ago. Besides her husband the deceased leaves four sons and one daughter now married and living near Dorchester, Ont.

Mrs. Neil Calder has moved up here from Ontario, and lives with her youngest son, who runs a dray and livery business in Fort Quappelle. Her daughter is employed at the Fort Quappelle Sanatorium, where over 300 patients are receiving treatment. Those who were at the Belleville School back in the nineties will remember Mrs. Calder as Miss Jessie Brown, of Mount Forest, Ont.

Mr. Noah Laballe reports heavy business in his harness shop, and sales are continually on the upward trend. Noah does a rushing business in his store and shop, where he keeps a line of high grade fine shoes as well as working shoes and harness, besides repairing. He has been here for over twelve years and is well known and highly esteemed by all in this neighborhood. He is a great golf player, and is frequently seen driving the ball on the tees with the accuracy of a professional. He has two other deaf brothers, Alexander and Maxim.

LONDON LEAVES.

Mr. Charles A. Ryan, of Woodstock, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Fisher over the weekend of April 25th, and took in the Jaffray meeting that Sunday.

We wish to inform Mr. Herbert W. Roberts, your bustling correspondent, that Mr. Joseph Toulouse, whom he enquired for in a recent issue, is living on a farm at Big Point, near Casham. Mr. Herbert Wilson was up that way and met Mr. Toulouse, who was doing very well.

Mr. W. H. Gould, Jr.'s, father, who is still very active at 77, can be seen very often driving around with his pony and carriage, which he prefers to that of an automobile.

Mr. Herbert Wilson has signed with the ball team of the McCormack Co., which is grouped in the Intermediate League with Ingersoll, St. Mary's and Gibsonburg. Herb is a pitcher and outfielder.

HER LAST SLEEP.

The deaf everywhere she was known were shocked and sorry to hear of the death of their old and esteemed friend, Mrs. David Hambly, at her home in Nobleton, at nine o'clock, on the morning of April 26th. By her removal from our midst, the oldest deaf widow in Canada ceases to be, for she now crosses the great span into the vast beyond.

The late Mrs. Hambly was born near the village of Palermo, in the County of Halton, on May 12th, 1840, and had she lived two weeks longer, she would have attained her 86th year. Before her marriage, she was Miss Susannah Spears, daughter of the late Archibald Spears, and lost her hearing by scarlet fever, when but two summers born. She was brought up under the best discipline and loving care, which was responsible for her gentle manners and pious demeanour through her useful life. At first she was educated under private tutelage, then attended the old Hamilton School for the Deaf, and completed her schooling in the year the school was transferred to Belleville. In 1878 she was married, at Oakville, to Mr. David Hambly, of Nobleton. They had no children. On May 23d, 1907, her husband died and since then she had resided in her old home at Nobleton—a home that her husband's father hewed out of the virgin forest in the troublesome year of the McKenzie Rebellion of 1837. The funeral took place from her late residence to Laurel Hill Cemetery, near Bolton, Ont., on Tuesday, April 28th, and was very largely attended. To the bereaved ones we extend deepest sympathy.

GENERAL GLEANINGS

Could any of your Canadian readers give the whereabouts of Miss Aunetta Burr, whom we last saw thirty years ago?

Mr. Frank Ross, of Jarvis, a relative of Mr. Thomas Bradshaw, of Santa Barbara, Cal., died, on April 20th, very suddenly of apoplexy. The deceased was widely and popularly known.

When Miss Helen A. Middleton left Toronto, on April 20th, she rode to the station in a taxi amid scenes of summerlike hue, but when she reached her home station of Shelburne, she was whirled away to her parental home near Horning Mills, in a sleigh with jingling bells and a rough snowdrift from two to four feet high amid an atmosphere of Christmas satire. It is only sixty-five miles from Toronto to Shelburne. What think ye of this?

After a long illness, which he bore with true Christian fortitude, Mr. Thomas Greene passed to the Great Beyond on April 19th, in his 51st year. He had suffered for a long time from an ailment that was diagnosed as dropsy. After graduating from the Belleville school over 28 years, he married Miss Martha Baragar and they took up farming near his home in St. Ota, in Hastings Co., but later moved to Toronto, where they lived for a while, but again moved back to their farm. Their union was blessed with three children—all girls, and Bertha, the eldest is now Mrs. Burkett, of St. Ota. The deceased was of a quiet unassuming manner and very popular with all who knew him. We extend to the bereaved family our deepest sympathy.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Thomas returned to their home in Oakville, on April 23d, from Fairhope, Alabama, where they had been sojourning all winter. Before their departure for the north, the deaf of that fair city, to the number of over a score, gave a farewell party in their honor, which was a roaring treat.

The hockey team of the Winnipeg School for the Deaf, which is managed by our old friend, Mr. Rupert Williams, had a very successful season the past winter, and though pitted against very strong teams, they won five games, lost two and one was a draw. This is the third year in succession that they have won more games than their opponents. Hats off to Rupert.

PORTLAND, ORE.

Mr. John Skoglund and Mr. Andrew Genner, of Spokane, Wash., motored from Spokane to Vancouver, Wash., on their way to Seattle, arriving at Vancouver, on Saturday night, April 11th.

Mr. P. H. Divine, aged father of L. A. Divine, principal of the Vancouver, Wash., Deaf School narrowly escaped serious injuries recently while driving home to his farm with a horse and buggy, on the highway. As Mr. Divine turned in towards his home, a speeding auto struck his buggy throwing the old man to the pavement, but he is not considered badly hurt. Mr. Divine is over 80 years old, the oldest deaf man in Vancouver and perhaps in the State of Washington. Mr. Divine owns a fine prune farm about two miles outside of Vancouver.

Little Willie, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Hunter, of Vancouver, Wash., was knocked down by an automobile while out playing on roller skates. The wheels ran over his toes, but did not cause any serious injuries.

About eighty deaf attended the Easter service at the Trinity Lutheran Church, to listen to a fine sermon on Christ's crucifixion and how Easter Sunday should be respected by all people and kept holy. Twelve deaf persons were confirmed as members of the church, about twenty are now members by the good and active work of Rev. Eickman for the past year. Other deaf attended the service at the Church of the Stranger.

The convention committee of the Oregon Association of the Deaf were called up by President Linde, to meet in a room of the Journal building to arrange matters pertaining to the coming convention from July 1st to 5th. The event will open with a reception, on Wednesday night, at the headquarters, corner of West 3d and Columbia Streets. This location is near the heart of the city, and should be easy to find. The committee in charge are C. H. Linde, President, and general chairman, H. P. Nelson, chairman of headquarters, B. L. Craven, J. O. Reichle, Wayne Thierman, Mrs. Thierman, Mrs. H. P. Nelson, Mrs. Wm. F. Cooke and Mr. Lee, Miss Dodd. Any one from out of the State, who contemplates on coming to the event and wishes to know concerning accommodation, can write to H. P. Nelson, 2829—62d Street, S. E., Portland, who will be glad to assist any visitors.

Former Superintendent Thomas P. Clarke, of Vancouver, Washington Deaf School, who was reported on the way to recovery, is considered worse, according to reports from his Vancouver friends and may not survive much longer. This sad news has caused much sorrow, at Vancouver and Portland, and many are praying for his recovery, which is doubtful.

Mr. C. H. Linde, who bought a beautiful little home a year ago on 56th Street, has just finished making a pretty lawn and expects to see some fine flowers Mrs. Linde has planted. Mr. Linde has about one of the finest job of any Portland deaf, working as a linotype for the Portland Journal, one of Portland's leading newspapers. He has done a great deal for the deaf during his term as President of O. A. D. And does things without bragging of it.

Mr. Royal Cooke will soon be another wise man, as he is planning to join the good bunch among the boys of No. 41, N. F. S. D.—the Portland Frat campaign to get 100 members in the division during 1925 and 1926. And those who find fault with the organization should join, and they will be surprised to find out that the fault were all their own, but if they don't join, they will never know what a lively bunch the boys No. 41 are, and all good citizens at that.

Mrs. Rudy Spieler is expecting a visit from her brother, Mr. Rufus Pickett, of Brooklyn, New York, who will arrive some time in June. Mrs. Spieler says she has not seen her brother for 13 years, which will be a happy reunion. The Spielers will soon build a larger home.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Hunter and little son, Willie, of Vancouver, Wash., and Mrs. Mary DeVlieg, a visitor from Detroit, Mich., were callers at the Nelson home on Sunday, April 12th. After the service at the Lutheran Church, the Hunters, Nelsons and Mrs. DeVlieg were invited to stop and see Mrs. Guie Deliglio's new home, which she and Mr. Cooke will occupy, after April 16th. So the name Mrs. Deliglio will become Mrs. William Fred Cooke. The new home is just alongside of the bride's folks' home and is beautifully furnished with new furniture in six rooms.

Supt. and Mrs. George Lloyd, of the Deaf School at Vancouver, are the proud father and mother of a new born son, who arrived on March 23d.

Mrs. Guie Leo Deliglio and Mr. William Frederick Cooke, both of Portland, were quietly married on Thursday, April 16th, 8 P.M., at the home of Rev. E. Eickmann, preacher for the deaf at Trinity Lutheran Church. After the ceremony all went to the home of the bride's parents, where a Chinese lunch was served, as most of the guests were prominent Chinese, except Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Reichle, who were whitehearts, and a few others. Mrs. Cooke is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. G. W. Leo, a very prominent Chinese doctor of Portland for 25 years; her mother is of the white race, and the deaf of Portland will always remember and appreciate her hospitality toward the deaf, while her daughter was single. On Friday night following the wedding, a reception was given in which Mrs. Cooke's deaf friends were invited in honor of the bride and groom. It was a swell affair and after an elegant toast in which all drank punch, wishing the newly weds a long happy and prosperous life together, delicious ice cream and cake was served, a large wedding cake made by Mrs. Reichle, which was eat up, every body went home satisfied with the good time that evening. Mr. and Mrs. Cooke will be at home after May 1st, next door, to the bride's folks.

William, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Thierman, is the proud owner of a Radio set, which was installed in his room recently. Thelma, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Hastings, was down sick recently, but it is not thought dangerously.

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lawrence, of Vancouver, Wash., are reported sick with whooping cough, but nothing alarming.

Mr. L. R. Peterson lost his job at the Western Coopersage, because he took up too much time on his steel boat, during working hours, but it is thought he may get his job back later on, if he so desires.

The Canopus Stone.

This stone is usually called the "Decree of Canopus," because it contains a certain decree of the priest-hood assembled at Canopus. The original is at Cairo, and at the British Museum there is a very fine cast of the same.

The stone is reminiscent of the victories and the benefits which Ptolemy III (Euergetes) conferred on Egypt. This king conquered Asia Minor and for a brief space held Western Asia in fee.

To commemorate this the priest-hood assembled at Canopus in the ninth year of his reign, and passed a decree conferring special honors on the king and his queen Berenice II.

It was ordered that the decree be cut in the Greek and Egyptian languages on stelae to be set up in the most prominent place in temples of the first, second and third class throughout Egypt, in order that all men might read of the king's bounty. The Egyptian version was inscribed in two kinds of writing, viz., in hieroglyphics and in demotic. The decree also ordered that one day be added to the calendar every fourth year, thus anticipating the Leap-year of modern times.

To appreciate the value of this stone, it is necessary to turn to Daniel 11: 6-9:

"And in the end of years they shall join themselves together, for the king's daughter of the north shall come to the king of the north to make an agreement, but she shall not retain the power of the arm, neither shall she stand, nor his arm; but she shall be given up, and they that brought her, and he that begat her, and he that strengthened her in these times.

But out of a branch of her roots shall one stand up in his estate, which shall come with an army, and shall enter into the fortress of the king of the north, and shall deal against them, and shall prevail; and shall also carry captives into Egypt their gods, with their princes, and with their precious vessels of silver and of gold, and he shall continue more years than the king of the north.

So the king of the south shall come into his kingdom, and shall return into his own land."

Daniel received this prophecy by special revelation in 534 B.C., and it came to pass in the year 250 B.C. The second Syrian war ended by treaty that year as follows: Ptolemy II (Philadelphus), the king of the south (Egypt) stipulated that Antiochus II (Theos), king of the north (Syria) was to put away his wife, Laodice and also declare her sons illegitimate and marry Berenice the daughter of Ptolemy instead. Their first-born was to be declared heir to the Syrian throne.

Ptolemy gave so large a dowry with his daughter that he was nicknamed "the Dower-giver." A year later a son was born to Berenice, but as Ptolemy II died shortly after, Antiochus II recalled his first wife, Laodice and her sons, thinking to repudiate Berenice and her infant.

Laodice, however, poisoned her husband and made her son Seleucus II (Callinicus) king and pursued Berenice, who had fled to the Asylum at the grove of Daphne.

Her father could not help her, being now dead, but her brother, Ptolemy III, marched with an army to the rescue.

All the cities of Asia Minor were on her side and ready to open their gates to her, but the relentless old queen procured the murder of the young queen and her infant at Daphne.

Ptolemy, however arrived shortly after with a large army, and completely defeated the Syrian king and his brother and executed the murderers, Laodice. So successful was he that he recovered many priceless objects which had formerly been carried off from Egypt by the Persian monarch, Cambyses, many years before.

Ptolemy outlived his rival, Seleucus II, and returned in safety to his own land to inaugurate a golden age of Greek culture.

The fulfillment of Daniel's prophecy was truly miraculous, and the Canopus Stone cries aloud of it over two thousand years later.—The King's Business.

The New "Oslo"

Oslo is to be the new capital of Norway—but a capital new only in name, and really not even in that, for Oslo was for centuries the name by which the capital city of Norway was known. It was in 1629, after a devastating fire that the city of Oslo was renamed Christiania. Now, by a small majority of votes in the Norwegian parliament, the old name has been restored. Map-makers, please take notice!

The name Oslo is said to mean "the mouth (outlet) of the River Lo." Another explanation from a Norwegian authority is that it means "the low tide at the ridge." Whatever the derivation of the word, the name was given to the place by the Viking ruler Harold nearly nine hundred years ago. The change to the earlier name is said to have been brought about by the strong revival of national feeling at present manifesting itself in Norway.—Outlook.

A Vast Difference.

THE "Bulletin to the Schools," issued twice a month by the University of the State of New York, recently contained the following, which ought to give food for reflection upon the vast difference which education and technical training makes upon the earning capacity of the individual as compared with the partly educated and untrained:

"The cash value of a high school education to its possessor is estimated at $33,000 by Everett W. Lord, dean of the College of Business Administration of Boston, who has made an analysis of the comparative financial returns from different degrees of education. The money value of a college or technical school education is placed by Dean Lord at $72,000 more than that of the high school education."

"His report states the average maximum yearly income of the untrained man to be less than $1200; that of the high school graduate to be $2200; and that of the college or technical school graduate to be $6000. He also estimates that while the untrained man at the age of 50 years begins to drop toward dependence, the college man reaches his maximum earning capacity at 60 years of age."

"Dean Lord's computation shows that the untrained man goes to work as a boy of 14 years and reaches his maximum income at 30 years, on the average less than $1,200 a year. He points out that since the untrained man's income is dependent on physical strength and manual dexterity, it falls off at 50 years of age or earlier, to a point below the level of self-support. More than 60 out of every 100 untrained workers are shown to be dependent upon others for support at the age of 60 years. The total earnings from the age of 60 years are placed at about $45,000. Between the ages of 14 and 18 years, the 4 years that might have been spent in high school, the young man usually earns not more than $2,000, it is stated."

"According to the report, the high school graduate goes to work at the age of 18 years, passes the maximum of the untrained man within 7 years, rises steadily to his own maximum of approximately $2200 at 40 years and continues at that level for the remainder of his active life. His total earnings from 18 years of age are estimated at $78,000. The $33,000 excess over the life earnings of the untrained man represents the cash value of a four-year high school course."

"The permanent earnings of the college, or technical school graduate, begin at 22 years of age, although a considerable amount may be earned during the college course, the report shows. By the time the graduate is 28 years of age, his income equals that of the high school graduate at 40 years of age, and it continues steadily to rise, practically without a break. His income increases, it is pointed out, since it is dependent upon his mental ability and training constantly improved by practice, and the average of $6000 at 60 years of age is often surpassed."

"The total earnings from 22 years to 60 years of age, not including any sum earned during the college period, are estimated at $150,000. This is $72,000 more than that earned by the high school graduate, and this amount is used to represent the cash value of a college or technical school training."

In the Sunday Star of Washington, D. C., is a big half-tone showing a group of Gallaudet College students undergoing an experiment with sound vibrations, being made by Robert H. Gault, professor of psychology of Northwestern University. Through these experiments, it has been proven that at least some of the students "hear" plainly through receiver vibrations, by using the fingers on the diaphragms. If this result is general, it is a step forward in the amelioration of deafness.

Fund for Chinese Deaf.

The following sums have been reported for the relief of the School for the Deaf at Chefoo, China, in response to the appeal printed in the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL, some weeks ago:

Men's Club of St. Ann's Church	$10 00
Special offering, St. Ann's	13 87
Rev. John H. Kent	2 00
St. Ann's Church School	5 00
Total	$30 87

It is earnestly hoped that other individuals and societies of the deaf will give something toward this relief fund, if they have not already done so directly. Contributions sent to the editor of the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL will be forwarded by a special bank draft to China. This is a worthy cause which every deaf person in the country should wish to aid.

National Association of the Deaf.

JAILED

LITTLE ROCK, ARK., April 9.—Following a wild ride through three counties in a stolen automobile, during which a woman at Pine Bluff was run down and injured seriously, Davis L. Turnbow, alias Duke Thompson, a deaf mute, aged 18, of Magazine, wrecked the car at Sweet Home and was injured. The youth is held in a local jail on a charge of grand larceny, and a warrant from Pine Bluff charging him with reckless driving, is expected here, police say Turnbow has confessed.

Officers say Turnbow escaped recently from the Boys' Industrial School near Pine Bluff. They say that he admitted driving away in a Ford truck from Seventh and Louisiana Streets. The truck belonged to the Little Rock Gas and Fuel Company.

At Pine Bluff, during the noon hour, Turnbow is charged with running down Miss Olga Sprunger, a stenographer, injuring her seriously. He did not stop, but sped out of the city toward Little Rock. Several miles south of Sweet Home he lost control of the truck, and it was wrecked against a fence. Turnbow suffered an ugly gash on the scalp. He was removed to Little Rock in a P. H. Ruebel & Co. ambulance, and after attention at the General hospital was placed in jail by Lieut. O. N. Martin and Sergeant Henson.

Chief of Police F. M. Henry, of Pine Bluff, asked the local officers yesterday afternoon for custody of the prisoner, but the local police probably will turn the youth over to officials of the Industrial School. Police here did not know any particulars about the fornication sentence.

Turnbow says that another youth was with him at the time of the alleged theft, but would not give his name.

What is defeat? Nothing but education. Nothing but the first step to something better.—Wendell Phillips.

CHICAGO.

Oh, Deafie dear, and did you hear
The news that's going round?
Us deaf-mutes are forbid our beer—
No beer on us is found.
No more we'll pace the peaceful pave
And talk in signs . . . No; stop!!!
Be brave; behave; in signs don't rave—
Beware the shooting cop.

The oralists must be jubilant. A deaf man was shot by a policeman the morning of April 28th, FOR USING THE SIGN LANGUAGE!

They are trying to deprive us of the right to drive our own cars on the thoroughfares built with our own taxes; perhaps they may eventually come around to depriving us of the right to peacefully pace along our own streets, or churn the air in our own language. The following from the American explains it:

MAN WITH HIP FLASK SHOT BY POLICEMAN

Fate wound a weird combination of circumstance today to cause William Ward, 18, to be taken to the County Hospital with a bullet wound in his hip.

He was shot by Policeman Matthew Saurin of the Warren Avenue Station.

Ward was talking to Graham Wood, at W. Madison and Rockwell streets. The policeman spied the two and saw that a violent argument seemed to be in progress.

That's where the fine hand of fate appeared. The policeman thought he was witnessing a holdup and drew his gun, according to Chief Collins orders.

As he was approaching the pair Ward reached for his hip pocket. Saurin opened fire and just as Ward pulled a bottle of moonshine from his pocket he fell to the ground with a bullet in the hip.

"What was he waving his arms so for? I thought it was a robbery," said the policeman to Ward's companion.

Wood pulled a piece of paper from his pocket and wrote on it, "I'm deaf and dumb."

Both Ward and Wood, according to police, were intoxicated.

The annual ball of the Silent Athletic Club, held on the 25th, was not as well-patronized as it should have been; but at that it was no small-town affair. A five-piece orchestra played the twelve dance numbers—starting at around 9:30 instead of the advertised hour of eight (when—oh, when—will these Chicagili get the habit of being on time and starting things promptly?) Six tables played for "500" prizes in the parlor during the dancing—thereby affording pleasing pastimes for the ladies, over 35 (who are—by the peculiar tradition which passes as "Chicago" chivalry)—forever consigned to be wall flowers at dances.)

It was the first silent ball I have attended in over a year, and the changes were therefore conspicuous. That gang of ill-bred bores, was conspicuous by their absence. Those Sac dances have finally developed the refinement and polish which was so long bemoaned. And I counted five males in evening dress.

For years I used to parade around Chicago balls, the only masculine genus homo in boiled shirt and swallow-tail—enduring biting ridicule and covert contempt, yet persisting with fanatical faith that my missionary work would eventually bring those rough-necks and low-brows to at least try to ape the manners and habiliments of gentlemen (even if they weren't). "We deaf are as good as the hearing, so for Gosh sake let's do as they do," I would entreat those who made sour remarks on shrimps and sausage-casings and clumsy cows and Indian war dances. Lo, all of a sudden the craze has spread. The world's finest silent clubhouse is beginning to fill with the finest silents.

The club awarded a bouquet of two dozen roses as prize for the best dressed lady there, which went to Mrs. Abe Migatz—the pleasant young wife of the popular social-chairman of various organizations. She wore salmon-colored silk crepe, bead embroidered, cut medium-low in the neck, with stockings and slippers to match.

Among the out-of-town visitors were Miss Nellie Davis of Elgin, and Miss Marjorie Miles of Indiana Harbor, Ind., a young lady who is said to make nearly $60 per week plunking a linotype there.

Mrs. Florence Harpin has left her Joliet husband, whom she married last fall after divorcing Otto Mallman, the lightweight pugilist, and is again living in Chicago with her mother.

F. P. Gibson, M. Henry, A. Migatz and H. Keasal, attended a gathering of silents in South Bend, Ind., lately, where 148 are said to have assembled.

Melville Cox and his wife got back on the 23d, after two months touring the country in Cox's brother's car. In all, they motored 3200 miles—a trip extending as far as Tia Juana, Lower California. Cox visited the clubrooms of the Los Angeles A. C. and the Silent Club, while in that Mecca of Deafdom.

Mrs. Herbert Hackett, and two youngsters, are spending a pleasant time here with her mother, Mrs. William J. O'Neil. Mrs. O'Neil is popularly known in Sac circles as "the youngest grandmother in captivity."

Remember the big Home bazaar at the Sac, May 23d. Mrs. Meagher herself is chairman in charge, which is a dead give-away to those who know her capacities.

In the early part of June, Mrs. W. McGann will give a "show" at the Pas-a-Pas Club, for the benefit of the Home.

Dates ahead May 23d—Big Home Bazaar at Sac. May 29, 30—Two day carnival at Sac—dancing and vaudeville.

J. FREDERICK MEAGHER.

FANWOOD.

Thursday evening, April 30th, the Sixth A Oral Class, whose teacher is Miss Alice E. Teegarden, showed in clear signs several readings, a dialogue and a debate, on the chapel platform, before the Fanwood Literary Association.

The debate was very close, and was won by the affirmative side. The judges chosen were Cadet Lieutenant Charles Knobloch, and Misses Edna Purdy and Frances Voget.

At the conclusion of the entertainment, the class was applauded.

Before adjournment Dr. Thomas F. Fox related the Current Events.

The program was as follows:

The Meaning of Boys' Week—Ben Sestile.

Dialogue—What does it mean to be a Boy Scout? William Wyatt. Assisted by Louis Bayarsky.

True Stories of Heroism—Abraham Cohen.

Story—"The Skaters and the Wolves," by William Horne.

Biography—Mozart and Handel, the Boy Musicians—Herbert Alperen.

Debate—Resolved, that there should not be capital punishment for young people. Affirmative Negative

John Kostyk Louis Bayarsky

Story—"Peter of Haarlem," by Perry Schwing.

Story—"That Tallerico Kid," by Sam Grossman.

Biography—King Alfred—Allyn Manning.

Story—"Quality of Loyalty," by John Kostyk.

Biography—Charles Dickens as a Boy—Abe Hirsom.

Story—"How a Bad Boy became Good," by Ben Sestile.

A Boy Scout Skit—By all the boys.

On Wednesday Mr. E. A. Hodgson lectured both to his morning and afternoon Printing Classes, on the value of time. He pointed out to the boys the precious time lost by inattention and irregular attendance. He pointed out also other useful information in regard to the technique of printing. Mr. J. N. Funk, a graduate, who now is a linotype operator on a Brooklyn newspaper, was present, while Mr. Hodgson was addressing the afternoon class, and by invitation he addressed the boys. Among other things Mr. Funk said that they (the boys) should consider themselves lucky to be learning, printing, as it was a good profession for the deaf, and he advised all to do their best in order to be a credit to their school as well as to themselves.

Friday afternoon, May 1st, our Band, with Lieutenant William Edwards, our conductor, took part in the parade on Fifth Avenue in celebration of the Boys' Week. The line of march was from 80th to 10th Street. Our boys were loudly applauded by the spectators.

After almost one week's sickness Mr. Anthony Capelle, our assistant teacher of printing, resumed his duties in the Printing Office. While he was not here, Cadet Captain Behrens helped.

Joseph J. Werber, who graduated about eleven years ago, was a caller on Thursday, April 30th, 1925. He is a bricklayer, and lives in Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

Cadet Drum Major Heintz did not return to school till Wednesday last, the 29th ult., as his mother is quite sick.

Last Saturday, May 2d, Pietro LaBarco was also admitted as a pupil to this Institution. He came from the Westchester School for the Deaf.

The second Saturday afternoon ball game between our Fanwood team and the well known Chapel nine was played on our diamond. In the first inning three runs were scored when Cadet Lieut. Kerwin smashed the ball to the center field fence. Throughout the innings we were beaten by a big score, chiefly through errors. A few recent graduates and the household enjoyed the game.

Last Saturday early morning those who reported having had an enjoyable "hiking party" in Alpine, N. Y., were Cadets Lieutenant Knobloch, First Sergeant Greenberg, Lander, Wyatt, Musicians Ruthven and Seefeld, all members of the Magrat Athletic Association.

PHILADELPHIA.

On Saturday evening, May 2d, All Souls' Hall was the scene of a rather unique entertainment. It consisted of a variety of dances, the dancers all being hearing people. We understand that the entertainment was arranged by Miss Sylvia Pollock, who herself was unable to be present, due to the precaution taken at the Mt. Airy Institution to guard against small pox or similar danger. Although we did not attend the entertainment it was said to have been quite a success. The proceeds will be applied to finishing the improvements in the basement of the Parish House, including painting. Miss Pollock and her hearing friends thus deserve very grateful thanks for their help in raising funds to complete the improvements mentioned. Miss Pollock is still a student at the Mt. Airy Institution.

A variety entertainment was given for the benefit of the Home for Aged, Infirm and Blind Deaf at All Souls' Hall, on Saturday evening, April 18th last. The following program was successfully carried out:—

The entertainment was in charge of Misses Mary Klaitis and Elizabeth Hassett, who also played leading parts in it.

Following the entertainment, Mrs. Sarah S. Vandegrift, the retiring matron of the Home at Doylestown, was escorted upon the stage, and, after a complimentary address was read by Miss Gertrude M. Downey, presented a pretty bag containing $80, as an appreciation for the deaf for her faithful and efficient service. Mr. Lipsett also presented her a box of sweets. It happened that the day following was Mrs. Vandegrift's seventy-first birthday, so that the gifts were the more enjoyed. The following Monday, Mrs. Vandegrift left for Michigan to visit her son. On her return, she expects to live in Doylestown for a time at least.

A new matron has charge of the Home now. On Saturday evening, April 25th, the Knights of De l'Epee held an enjoyable social at the Grand Fraternity on Arch Street. The attendance was about 175. One of the visitors from a distance was Mr. George Williams, of Boston, Mass. Competitive games were held and their prize winners were as follows:—

First prize, Miss Margaret Fitzgerald, a box of correspondence paper; 2d, Mr. E. Meecan, a vase; 3d, Miss M. McBride, a book; 4th, Mr. Cassidy, a safety razor. Mr. James Flynn was chairman of the event, while Miss Shea acted as treasurer.

James L. Patterson, who is incapacitated from work by a weak heart, will receive a pension of $80 per month from the Atlantic Refinery Co., by whom he has long been employed. Mr. James M. Purvis, another deaf mute, is also on the pension list of the same company, or will be.

Washington Houston was felicitated on his 79th birthday on May 3d by Philadelphia Division, No. 30. It is Mr. Houston's ambition to live to see the Philadelphia-Camden bridge completed in time for him to walk across it and have dinner with the Bradys. It seems that he is destined to realize his dream; any way, it is hoped so.

The railroad fare from Broad Street Station to Torresdale is fifty-eight cents one way, or $1.16 for the round trip. According to a diagram published in the Bulletin of April 23d, Pleasant Hill Park, which is being transformed into a sanitary resort for bathers by the city, is somewhere between the Torresdale filtration plant and the coming new home for the aged deaf.

Mr. Nicholas Cahn has been transferred from the Philadelphia General Hospital to the Lucien Moss Home on the grounds of the Jewish Hospital. He may be visited on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, from 2 to 5 P.M., and on Sunday from 1 to 5 P.M.

At the last meeting of the Gallaudet Club at All Souls' Parish House on April 11th, Mr. Charles A. Kepp was elected President, succeeding Mr. Joseph V. Donohue, and Messrs. Howard E. Arnold and Harry E. Stevens were re-elected Vice-President and Secretary-Treasurer, respectively. At this meeting the dues were raised from two to four dollars a year.

Among out-of-town visitors at the entertainment on Saturday evening, 2d of May, were Mr. John Jump, of Milford, Del.; Mr. and Mrs. Batts and Mr. A. Seay, of Wilmington, Del.; Mr. W. Scott B. Miller, of Elizabethtown, Pa., and Mr. and Mrs. David Devlin of Steelton, Pa.

Mr. Wm. H. Lipsett has a spell of illness, but he may be around soon—that is, if complications do not arise.

Mr. Charles H. Sharrar retired as Sexton of All Souls' Church on April 30th, after four and a half years' service, and has been succeeded by Mr. David Speece.

DETROIT.

During the last two weeks, the JOURNAL has not been its usual welcome weekly visitor. Of course this was as far as Detroit was concerned. The reason for this was the absence of Mrs. C. C. Colby's spicy and interesting Detroit News letter. However, in the future, Detroit News letters will appear in the JOURNAL under a new name. Mrs. Colby has gone to Washington, D. C., to remain with her married daughter, Ruth. The loss of Mrs. Colby from our city will be keenly felt by her numerous friends.

Her charming and always smiling daughter, Violet, will be with us for good. She has a responsible job at the Morris Industrial Bank, of Detroit. She also takes an interest in the deaf affairs, and is always willing to help those she thinks deserves it.

There are several good writers in this burg. But up to date no one has been selected. Upon the request of many of the JOURNAL readers, I have taken up the task of writing.

Mrs. Ben Beaver has recently been discharged from the Henry Ford Hospital. She underwent a successful operation for goitre. Not so long ago, a bouncing baby boy arrived at their new home in Birmingham, Mich. They named him Ben, Jr., which caused Thos. Keuny to jokingly remark: They now have a Big Ben and a little Ben in their house, referring to a well known alarm clock.

A successful surprise party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Henderson, in honor of Mrs. R. H. MacLachlan's birthday. Many beautiful presents were showered on the popular Mrs. MacLachlan.

Detroit is due to lose another of its honored and loved citizens. Mrs. Francis McMahon, a long-time resident, is going to pack her trunk and go to Seattle, Wash. In the future she will live with her brother, who owns extensive lumber lands. Poor health is her reason for deserting Detroit and her friends.

Under the successful direction, of Ivan Heymansson, President of the M. A. D., that important organization is sure to come out on top. He has for his assistants some of the get there and go men, who made the 1920 convention in Detroit such a splendid success. On account of unavoidable conflict of dates, the Rev. Koehler was slated to hold service at St. John's Church, April 19th, but the ever ready Ivan settled the matter by obligingly telling the Rev. Koehler that the M. A. D. meeting would wait until he finished his service. This wise move on the part of Ivan, brought an unlooked for crowd.

George Tripp, of Flint, an ardent worker for the cause, urged every deaf to rally around and put their shoulders to the wheel and all give it a good push.

R. V. Jones after two years as a recluse for the D. A. D., has condescended to become one of us again. His application will be passed upon at the May meeting.

The Ladies Aux of the Detroit Association have at last come to an understanding with the D. A. D. members. They will hold their first meeting soon, when officers will be elected. The ladies will be a great help to the Club, both financially and in bringing new members.

Two young fellows from Chicago and S. A. C., Mr. Hinch and Mr. Ranson, both are lions of the hour with everybody. They will be a great help to the D. A. D. Their experience as members of the S. A. C. will inject vigor into the members of the D. A. D.

Charles Ashley motored to East Akron, O., April 15th. He returned Sunday, April 19th.

Mr. and Mrs. Meek's clever little son has gone through the throes of whooping cough, and is his same sweet self again.

Friday, April 17th, Rev. Koehler gave an interesting lecture before the Ladies' Guild, at St. John's Parish House. His subject was penitence. There was a big crowd present.

ECKERT.

Gallaudet College.

Professor Skyberg conducted the Sunday afternoon chapel services, basing his talk on the topic "Immanuel—God with us." He spoke at length on how the lives of men are guided by a Supreme Being known by divers names, as Jehovah, the Almighty, etc.

One of the big events of the year took place Friday evening. It was the Kappa Gamma dance, to which the whole family had been invited. The fraternity men had decorated the old "Gym" with streamers of buff and blue, Kappa Gamma banners and college pennants. Vapors arising from incense urns filled the hall with a sweet aroma. For two and a half hours (8 to 10:30), that sped away all too swiftly, graceful couples swayed and skimmed along the waxed floor to the syncopated strains of the well known Mt. Pleasant Four orchestra. During intermissions the dancers enjoyed iced punch. The Kappa Gamma Fraternity is always working good of the College, and its annual dance promises to become the leading social affair of spring.

Saturday morning Misses Nelson and Tillinghast took the entire Fowler Hall division of the Prep Class up the Potomac on an excursion to Mt. Vernon. The young ladies enjoyed the trip to the core and reported that the old Mansion is "just lovely," nestled as it is among rich flowers beds and groves with fresh green foliage.

Our baseball team lost two more games during the week. On Wednesday the George Washington University Engineers came, over and by means of two timely homers won the game with a score of 8-5. Knauss pitched the first two innings, during which time the visitors scored six times. Massinkoff then took hold of the hurling and held the Engineers well in hand.

Saturday the squad under Nickolaus Von Braunagel hit the rails for Quantico, Va. Timely hits by the Devil Dogs early put them in the van. In spite of the one-sidedness of the count, the game was fast and clean, Gallaudet playing perhaps her best game of the season in the field. Reneau featured with a flying leap into the bleachers to snatch Hannah's high foul. Massinkoff pitched the full game, his smoke ball keeping the Devil Dogs guessing much of the time. The final score was 13-2. The Marines, by the way, have played 18 games to date and won 16 from the leading college and university nines in the East.

NEW YORK

News items for this column should be sent direct to the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL, Station M, New York.

A few words of information in a letter or postal card is sufficient. We will do the rest.

HOUSTON ATHLETIC CLUB

On Saturday evening, April 25th, the Houston Athletic Club, at the Boys' Club under the leadership of Prof. William G. Jones, staged a "Barn Dance."

No admission was charged. Besides the relatives and friends of the members, the Fanwood Relay team that competed at the Franklin Field under the auspices of the University of Pennsylvania in the afternoon, were present. In all about 250 were present.

Chairman Edward Malloy was ably assisted by Benjamin Shafrenak in the preparation, and they surely decorated the room beautifully. They also arranged for a series of games, for which they awarded prizes to the winners.

Most conspicuous of all in the decoration was the beautiful banner on the curtain which bore the club's name—"Houston A. C."

The winners of the games were:

Candle Race—Miss Mollie Getsdorf and Fred Hoffman.

Hop Race—Miss Mae Ferguson.

Teaspoon Race—Louis Rosensweet.

The prize for dancing contest (Fox Trot) was won by Nathan Morrell and Miss Sophie Cohen.

There was still another prize, which was decided by the applause of the audience. It was the "Charleston," and was spiritedly contested. As Miss Mollie Getsdorf received the most applause, the prize was awarded to her.

At the conclusion Chairman Malloy awarded the prizes to the winners.

A social hour was enjoyed after the affair, and refreshments were served to all.

The New York Evening Telegram and Mail of April 27th, contained the following:

DEAF AND DUMB VETERAN ATTACKED.

Caught after a chase of more than a block, a man described as Patrick Mullins, twenty-five years old of No. 175 Grove Street, Hartford, Ct., was arrested today at Houston and Christie Streets. He was locked up on a charge of assault and robbery on complaint of John Barker, who alleges that Mullins robbed him of $28 after knocking him down with a blow of his fist. Barker, who is a deaf and dumb, was attended at the police station for a contusion of the right eye, by Dr. Besse, of Gouverneur Hospital.

WEDDING BELLS!

Nearly one hundred friends and relatives were present when the Rev. Father Cass united Miss Antoinette Agnes DiAnno and Mr. Lawrence O'Shea in the holy bonds of matrimony at the Church of St. Theresa, Sterling Place and Classon Avenue, April 26th. The bride was given away by her hearing brother, while Mr. and Mrs. Paul DiAnno acted as best man and bridesmaid, respectively.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of bride on Classon Avenue, which was also attended by many of their deaf friends as well as hearing relatives.

Mrs. O'Shea is a product of the Brooklyn branch of St. Joseph's Institution and Mr. O'Shea was educated at the Mr. Airy School in Pennsylvania. He is now employed in Philadelphia and will make his home in that city, with the best wishes for a happy married life from a score of his friends here in New York.

Messrs. Wm. Mallone, Jas. Rooney and Frank Liberto, friends of Mr. O'Shea, accompanied him from Philadelphia and were present at the ceremony and reception.

XAVIER EPHPHATA SOCIETY NOTES.

That recent item in the JOURNAL'S X. E. S. Notes, telling of the wonder expressed at the large attendance at the recent Mission given by Father Louis Egan, and the absence of so many of the Catholic deaf at the monthly X. E. S. meetings, must have attracted notice in silent circles, for the May 3d attendance doubled that of April.

The Rev. Director showed commendable improvement in his sign delivery. As a result all sat up and took notice of a sermon on the worth of Catholic example by the deaf as well as hearing people. Father Egan urged all to do their duty as Catholics, not alone in name, but in practice.

Chairman Mae F. Austras has tickets out for the X. E. S. whist and euchre party, at Xavier Gym, 136 West 15th Street, Saturday evening, May 16th. An array of prizes, worth while, have been donated for the winners.

Joe Dennau, who has been ill for a month with an attack of painful mastoids on the left side of his head, was at May's meeting. All were glad to see him.

IN DIXIELAND.

All Atlanta joined Sunday, April 26th, with the rest of the south in paying annual tribute to the heroes of Dixie, who wore the gray during the days of the sixties. On May 30th, National Memorial Day, Atlanta and the south will again join in paying tribute to those who wore the blue, by decorating their graves in the National Cemetery, at Marietta. We observe two Memorial days in the south each year.

The Atlanta Journal says: "With a gain of more than one hundred thousand spindles in the course of a twelve-month, Georgia has passed Rhode Island in the cotton textile industry, thus winning fourth place in America. This is revealed through a current study of the Federal census reports for the year ending July 31st, 1924. Quite a number of deaf people are employed at the various textile manufacturing plants throughout Georgia, and all are doing well in this line, and keep more or less steady employment the year round.

Rev. S. M. Freeman is building a neat new bungalow for occupancy by himself and wife, on a lot adjoining the residence of his daughter, Mrs. M. M. Simmons, on Greenwood Place, Decatur. The construction of the building is progressing rapidly, and when completed will be one of the handsomest little homes on that street.

Trouble never seems to come singly. This saying has apparently been verified by another stroke of misfortune that befell Miss Zilla Hawkins, of Barnesville, about ten days ago, when the dwelling house in which she boarded was destroyed by fire in the early hour of 3 A. M.

Miss Hawkins was asleep alone in her room, and had it not been for the bravery and presence of mind of another lady occupying an adjoining room, who rushed into her room to arouse her, Miss Hawkins would undoubtedly have been cremated in her bed. As it was she barely escaped with her life, and lost her trunk and all of her wearing apparel, together with a considerable sum of money and other personal valuables, which were in her trunk. The entire house and all its contents were destroyed, nothing being saved except a rocking chair, which was out on the front porch. This is quite a serious loss to Miss Hawkins and follows the sudden death of her father less than a month ago. Her many Atlanta friends sympathize with her, and have extended their aid in any way that can be of any assistance.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Nadfrat Women's Club, held April 19th, Mrs. J. G. Bishop tendered her resignation as Secretary, giving as her reason the lack of time to devote to the necessary business of that office, inasmuch as the recent campaign launched to secure a "building fund" will double the amount of work required to be done. Her resignation was accepted with regret, and upon the vote of the entire membership Mrs. C. L. Jackson was named to fill the place of Corresponding Secretary and Chairman of the Building Committee. Mrs. Bishop will still continue as treasurer of the club, and all checks and dues should be sent to her. After the frat banquet on May 7th, the Nadfrats expect to begin their "building fund" campaign in earnest. A plot of ground on which to build has already been promised them by a friend in the real estate business, and it now only remains for them to secure the necessary money with which to erect the building.

This scribe and a party of friends expect to leave here on May 2d, in the McLean's touring car, for a week-end visit to the Alabama School for the Deaf at Talladega, and upon our return we will give our readers a write-up of our trip and all information of interest we may gain of that school on our trip.

Will all N. A. D. members in this State please send in their annual dues for 1925-26 to Mrs. C. L. Jackson, State Organizer, 17 Lucile Avenue, Atlanta. We have been instructed by the Secretary-treasurer, Mr. Moore, to proceed with the collection as rapidly as possible, and will appreciate if our members in Georgia would respond without putting us to the trouble and expense of writing each of them again. The N. A. D., like every other business organization, needs money to keep the wheels moving, so why wait until the eleventh hour to pay your dues? The Georgia Association of the Deaf will convene in Atlanta July 3 to 5, and we trust that those of our members who fail to pay up before then will come prepared to collect. But, the thoughtful ones will pay up now and not render it necessary for us to work all during the meeting collecting. Like every body else, we want to enjoy ourselves sometimes, without wasting all our time chasing after money.

A new organization of the deaf has just been launched in Atlanta, "The Christian Band of the Deaf." This is a religious and fraternal organization founded by the Rev. J. W. Michaels and the Atlanta branch, which is to be known as "Band No. 2," started out with a charter membership of thirty-five, and it is likely that a good many more will be enrolled before application is made for a charter, which is to be done at an early date. The new organization carries a death benefit of $250, and the initiation fee is $1.50 with a small monthly dues. Band No. 1 was started at Ft. Worth, Texas, some time ago, and we understand that this place is to be the general headquarters for the present. Rev. Michaels stated that other bands will shortly be organized at Nashville, Memphis, Knoxville, St. Louis, and several other places. The newly elected officers of the Atlanta Branch are: W. H. Christian, President; Miss Margie Weaver, Vice President; J. R. Bankston, Secretary; Hewitt Morgan, Treasurer; and Mrs. W. H. Alexander, Doorkeeper. This band will meet the fourth Sunday of each month.

News has just reached Atlanta of the serious illness of Hon. W. S. Johnson, at his home in Talladega, Ala. His many friends will be grieved to hear of this, as he is known and loved all over the south. His health has been declining for some time, but only recently became serious.

Mr. W. R. Jones, of Lithonia, was in Atlanta last week, buying up a new stock of leather for his shop. Mr. Jones now conducts the shoe repairing shop which was owned and operated for many years at Lithonia, by the late Mr. George W. Walker.

A party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Willingham, Mr. and Mrs. Dickerson, Miss Margie Weaver and Mr. and Mrs. McLean, motored to Lithonia last Sunday, carrying many beautiful flowers to Mr. Maggie Walker, who is still very ill and not expected to survive.

Why Should We Change?

EDITOR JOURNAL:—Some time ago our friend, Mr. George W. Veditz, made the suggestion that the N. A. D. and N. F. S. D. combine forces and hold their conventions at the same time and place.

We do not agree with him. In our opinion these two great organizations should be kept distinct and apart; but of course, always co-operating in harmony and goodwill to the other, in all that is for the welfare and advancement of the deaf in general; but combine their conventions or officials—never.

The N. A. D. already has too much petty politics within its ranks, and to meet in conjunction with the N. F. S. D. where it is likely in the future to have, as it is now, the same officers, or set of officers, serving in the major offices of both bodies, would render a harmonious and effective meeting impossible, and would open the way for both organizations to sooner or later become great political machines.

The N. F. S. D. is a truly great and powerful organization of the deaf, and as it has barred women from its membership (which is as it should) it would be well if it would go one step further, and bar or vote down any and all suggestion of time, with any other body or bodies which could tend to disrupt the old established order of things.

The N. F. S. D. is strictly a business body of men conducting a business of vital import to the deaf. Better let well enough alone as more harm than good is more than likely to result from holding the two conventions at the same time and place.

We have been present at conventions of both organizations, and know that the N. F. S. D. officers and delegates are all too busy the entire week to be able to give any serious consideration to the affairs of the N. A. D. Besides, we doubt that even should the N. A. D. hold its meeting following the N. F. S. D., or vice-versa, that any of the delegates would be able to stay away from their jobs long enough to attend both; or that many of them could afford the expense of a two-week stay, even if they could leave their jobs that long.

It is not so much the number of people who attend a convention, that speaks for the progress of the organization, but the ability and business management of the officers in charge.

As the N. A. D. officials are not paid officers, only men who are able and willing to serve, and feel that they have the time sufficient to devote to the business of this organization should be elected, or permit themselves, if nominated, to accept. We need good, efficient, self-sacrificing men in office—men who are big enough to put the N. A. D. first and their personal desires second. Until we find these kind, the N. A. D. will always be a football for political interests.

By all means let us keep the N. A. D. and the N. F. S. D. separate and distinct, with an entirely different set of officers at their head. Both organizations have grown and progressed separately, so why should we change now when very little, if any, possible good can be derived from the change?

MRS. C. L. JACKSON.

ATLANTA, GA., April 20, 1925.

GALLAUDET HOME

Late in the month of January last, Miss Walters, whose business it was to take care of Mrs. M. N. Nelson, who had been bedridden for the past three years and a half, went away on a three weeks' vacation, and during her absence Miss Carrie Lake, who is spoken of as the best nurse the Home ever had, took care of Mrs. Nelson. Miss Walter left here for good on the twenty-first of April, and the day following Mrs. Cora Nodine of the town of New Hamburg, three miles south of here, on the Hudson, came to take her place. This lady likes her new place of employment thus far, and is much liked by all the folks here. She is a widow with four children. Her nineteen-year old daughter takes care of her home while her mother is away. As soon as Miss Walters returned from her vacation, Mrs. Dixon went away for a couple of weeks' rest, and returned here on the thirteenth of February with her sister, Mrs. Jordan, of Pittsburg. Mr. Jordan came also. The Jordans remained here until the sixteenth of February when they left here for the metropolis, where they usually purchased a large amount of goods for their millinery store in Pittsburg. Miss Lake had charge of the couple of sick persons.

Miss Elizabeth P. Nelson, a lady manager of the Home, came here from her home in Yonkers on the twenty-first of February, and remained over a couple of weeks. While she was up in Poughkeepsie, on business, on the twenty-seventh of February, the wind blew so hard it pushed her down, and she had her leg slightly bruised.

At one time, it is said that Mrs. Nodine took care of Mr. W. W. Thomas's wife, or children, while they were sick, and so it is no new thing for her to be among the deaf again.

Mrs. Catherine Leary's niece, Miss Laura Gregg, and her friend, Miss Mabel Knowlton, of Perry, near Buffalo, drove all the way here just to stop for a little while to see and surprise Mrs. Leary, some weeks ago. She was delighted to see them. The ladies were on their way to Brooklyn, N. Y. They made their ephemeral call on the 28th of March, and left for home some time later.

Mrs. Redmond was away for a couple of weeks during the Easter tide. She visited her only son and family and enjoyed herself all the time she was away.

Because the ice in the artificial pond on the farmstead during the late winter season was at no time over four or five inches thick, Mr. Samuel Gardner was unable to procure a crop of it for this coming summer season, and so the Home will have to purchase what ice it may need at Wappinger Falls.

Mr. Samuel Gardner, who is a good mechanic and carpenter, as well as a good farmer, has made a delivery auto out of an old touring car, and finds it a very handy vehicle. Nowadays farmers seem to have little or no patience with their horses; they are very slow compared with the speed of the automobile, and do their best to get a car and use it instead of their horses. Every morning Mr. Gardner takes a quantity of fresh milk to the market, and likes to be there and back again in quick time, so as to tend to his work in the fields as early as possible.

Miss Kate Martin, a niece of the matron, and her friend, Miss Lulu Allen, are here to stay for the week's end. These ladies live up in Troy, N. Y., and come here quite often, and are much liked by the members of the household.

Mr. R. A. Kerstetter, of Brooklyn, N. Y., was up here to address the members of the family early in March, and so much pleased was he with his visit and the society of the household, he came again on Easter Sunday, and hopes to be here again ere long.

Not liking to live under the sheltering wing of this blessed refuge, where he had resided for exactly a year, James Madison Witbeck left here on the fourth of last March, and now is an inmate of the County House up in Schenectady, N. Y.

Some time ago, as Mrs. Rascol was the happy recipient of a photograph of her infant grandson and its mother, who live down in New Orleans, and she declares the baby somewhat resembles her in looks. Others, who have seen the picture, share with her in her declaration.

STANLEY.

Bruno Lessing in the New York American says that speech is far from being the most wonderful faculty of man, and that Helen Keller, born speechless and sightless, possesses more wonderful faculties than many a human being of inferior mould.

The most wonderful faculty of the mind is its power to think. The best thinking is done in silence. Its fruits blossom in a myriad of forms, each one of which is superior to speech.

OHIO.

May 2, 1925—The Shriners are giving a circus this week in the Coliseum of the State fair grounds. Tuesday afternoon they were hosts to the children and teachers of the School. Special street cars took the crowd up, and it sure enjoyed the presentation of the various performances of animal acts, and other specialties, among which were poodles and elephants acts. The acrobats, equestrian, clown and trapeze acts, were especially fine. The generosity of the management was greatly appreciated by the school. In addition, children from orphanages and crippled youngsters of the city, were sought out and treated to the show. At night performances, the Coliseum was filled to capacity.

The McGuffey Society, which holds its monthly meetings at the School, was presented with a silken flag by the McCoy Post, Woman's Relief Corps, in the Chapel, Tuesday evening. Mrs. Elizabeth Johnson, president of McCoy Post, made the presentation speech, and Mrs. Kate Eckleberry that of acceptance. A class of pupils gave the flag salute, raising and lowering the flag, and audience sang one stanza of the Star Spangled Banner. In passing from the Chapel, each child saluted the flag, the visitors remaining. The latter were surprised, seeing the children's knowledge of the flag, and how to honor it.

During the singing of the stanza, the pupils stood up, while the guests remained seated. One of the little pupils made a remark of this to her teacher. The incident was made known, whereupon the verse was repeated, all standing up this time.

Mr. Herman H. Kohn, in his Ford cabin, struck Columbus, Wednesday, this time coming from the West, through Chicago, Indianapolis and Cincinnati. He left this morning for Akron, from which point he started three years ago on a trip to Florida. Since then he has put on more weight and looking the pink of good health, which he attributes to changes of climate. Since he has been West some, as far as Omaha, travelling in his vehicle, the distance which is fitted up in the matter to serve all purposes. He stopped over here to have his machine given some overhauling.

At the chapel service Wednesday morning, Mr. E. R. Abernathy made his maiden effort, giving his talk to the pupils in the sign language. Heretofore when it came his turn to give the talk, it was done orally through an interpreter. When Mr. Abernathy began his talk in signs, he was met with a clapping of hands from all present, but it did not seem to disconcert him, and when he closed, received hearty congratulations.

The Executive Committee in charge of the forthcoming reunion, September 4, 5, and 6, announce these rates:

Membership fee	1 00
Breakfast	35
Dinner	50
Supper	40
Sunday Dinner	75
One way to Home for Aged Deaf	35
Round trip to the Home	60

Group picture to be announced later.

There will be four divisions of rooms. A C room in front (meals, room with bath and membership fee) from Thursday noon till Monday A. M., will cost $11.50. There are corresponding reductions for lesser time in all divisions. C room in front and Girls' H. C. and Girls' and Boys' halls (old hospitals), (meals, room without bath and membership fee) for full time $9.50; Boys' High Class, B and C Divisions, full time, $8.90; Girls' and Boys' Dormitories, B, C, D, full time $7.50. Of course there will be some who can attend only for a short time. By reference to the rate for meals and location of room and length of their stay, they can readily ascertain the cost of their stay here.

Mr. J. B. Showalter is in charge of the assignment of rooms.

Mrs. Sallie B. Scott has come to Columbus from Lebanon, Ohio, to make her home with a nephew, Mr. Williamson, who is an engineer on the Big Four railroad. His run is from Columbus to Cincinnati. Friends here of Mrs. Scott welcome her back to Columbus, for this city was her home until the death of her husband.

Mrs. C. C. Colby, of Detroit, Mich., writes: "I want to correct the statement in the Atlanta letter that A. R. Schneider, of Detroit, was in the South. Mr. Schneider has been and still is in this city, has a good position with the Fisher Body Company. He has a nice home on Holcomb Avenue and his family are church workers. Mr. Schneider is secretary of the Epiphany Mission, and his wife is President of the Ladies Guild."

CONNECTICUT.

It isn't possible for any of us to say what a shock to us deaf was the tragedy that befell our dearly beloved minister. It hurts every one of us who knew him—it hurts way down deep in our hearts. It doesn't seem fair that he should have gone in such a way. The deaf needed him, so for he always seemed to understand us. But God's will be done!

In appreciation of the work Rev. Heddon did for us, wouldn't his deaf friends be glad to show their appreciation in some way? We wish to put a stone or small monument over our minister's grave. Ten, fifteen, twenty-five cents, or even more, would go a long way if the congregation to whom he ministered would send that in. It is such a small thing for us to do for him after all he did for us. Any contribution, be it ever so small, will help, and your co-operation is expected, all of you deaf friends. Send contributions to Mrs. Alfred Stevenson, Box 91, Saybrook, Ct.

It is with the deepest regret that we write of the death of another wonderful friend, Mr. Emma Frelick, wife of Fred James Frelick, of Stamford, Ct. Mrs. Frelick passed away on Saturday morning, April 18th, from a complication of ailments, after being in a state of coma for four days.

Mr. and Mrs. Frelick were both of the old Hartford School, and are very well known all over New England. The body was taken to Provincetown, Mass., for burial, on the same afternoon that our minister, Rev. Heddon, was buried. A sweet, cheerful woman, she was every body's friend. We extend to Mr. Frelick our sincere sympathy in his loss. It is our loss, too, but what is our loss is her gain.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Stevenson, of Saybrook, Ct., have been visiting at the home of Mrs. Stevenson's mother in Bridgeport and, on returning to Saybrook, Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson, with many other deaf from out of town, were among those in New Haven last Sunday to attend the Silent Mission, and afterwards, church dinner. Every arrangement was made for the dinner, the table loaded with food, and we wondered why our minister was so late. After waiting for quite some time, a telephone message was received to tell us our minister couldn't come—had been killed. It was a sober, sad group, that left the church again. Will we ever have another friend like him?

A little six year old deaf-mute boy was killed while playing in the street when an auto truck ran over him. The driver of the truck was held blameless and the accident unavoidable. We wonder if the child shouldn't have been attending a school for deaf. It is probable that the parents weren't aware of such schools, else the fatality might have been avoided. The child's mother and an older brother were buried only a week before this accident.

Ignorance gives a sort of eternity to prejudice, and perpetuity to error.—Robert Hall.

Fairy Godmother's Club

Uncle Sam, on Friday, April 10th, carried in his letter bag twenty tiny invitations to each of twenty members of the Fairy Godmother's Club, of Philadelphia, requesting the pleasure of each member's presence at a banquet, given by one of its most popular members, Mrs. Nancy Moore, of Toronto, Canada. These little envelopes created a great stir among the fairies and they, one and all, hustled to rake up their best bibs and tuckers for the great occasion. "What will you wear to the Banquet?" was a very popular question among the club members, for the rest of the week, and the answer often was: "My nightie," or "a pillow case with a blue string tied around my waist." But when Wednesday, the 15th, arrived, there was a fine array of evening gowns and every one felt the unusual spirit of the evening.

The members of the Club are: Mesdames M. J. Syle, Edith Rothmund, H. Smith, Alex McGhee, Thomas Breen, H. Arnold, Charles Partington, E. Scott, H. E. Stevens, J. Allen, Mabel Wilson, of Canada; D. Paul, C. O. Dantzer, G. Wise and Misses Hess, Downey, Leaming, Dugan, Mrs. J. Dunner and Mrs. N. Moore, the hostess.

At nine o'clock, the guests were ushered into the dining-room, where a beautifully arranged table in pink and white was set. Miss Irene Syle, Mrs. McLeon and her small son, Donald, acted as waiters, and no one lacked full attention.

The menu was unusually elegant and similar to service to that served at first-class hotel banquets. It consisted of the following:

MENU
Shrimp Cocktail
Pimento Bisque
Chicken and Mushroom Patties
Creamed Potatoes
Green String Beans
Cucumber Sandwiches
Olives
Sweet Pickles
Rolls and Butter
Jellied Pineapple Salad
After Dinner Mints
Salted Almonds
Chocolate Straws
Bon-Bons
Cake 1915-1925
Merrigus Glace Strawberry Ice Cream
Toasted Cheese Crackers
Coffee

Mrs. Moore had warned each one in advance to be prepared to give a toast. When the banquet was over Mrs. M. J. Syle acted as toastmaster. When she called upon "yours truly," for a toast, Miss Downey professed ignorance of the word toast and presented Mrs. Moore with a huge slice of that delicacy, hoping to escape the after-dinner speech, but it didn't work. Each member told a story gay or sad, as it happened, and after expressing their appreciation of Mrs. Moore's hospitality they all went home, as one of them expressed it—too full for utterance! We all hope to meet again around the banquet board next year.

Not to be outdone, Mrs. Thomas Breen entertained the same club at her handsome home, on Saturday evening, the 25th of April, with a very enjoyable luncheon. Just before the hour of the club's meeting, a very threatening thunder storm broke over Philadelphia, and kept several of the members at home, for fear of a ducking. But the fourteen who braved the elements had a gay time and were glad they had had the courage to attend, as the table was very finely appointed, and afterwards Mrs. Mabel Wilson made a big hit with some of her laughable cartooning of different people.

The club will in May accept Mrs. John Allen's invitation to meet at her home, in Olney.

Washington is the mightiest name on earth—long since mightiest in the cause of civil liberty, still mightiest in moral reformation. To add brightness to the sun or glory to the name of Washington are alike impossible. Let none attempt it.
